

Programme Outcomes (POs)

Upon completion of the Undergraduate English Programme, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of English Literature from Classical to Contemporary periods, including Indian, British, American, Postcolonial, and European texts.
2. Apply literary theory and criticism for in-depth analysis of texts, understanding their aesthetic, cultural, historical, and political significance.
3. Develop communication proficiency, including spoken, written, and non-verbal communication suited for academic, professional, and social contexts.
4. Critically engage with texts through historical, philosophical, gender, and socio-political lenses, fostering analytical and reflective thinking.
5. Recognise diversity and inclusivity by exploring issues of class, caste, gender, ethnicity, and nationhood across various literatures.
6. Enhance personal and professional skills such as leadership, presentation, creativity, and collaborative learning through literature and communication-based courses.
7. Pursue interdisciplinary learning by integrating insights from linguistics, cultural studies, philosophy, and history.
8. Contribute as responsible global citizens, informed by liberal humanist values, empathy, and ethical perspectives nurtured through literary studies.